ART OF THE REAL:

Angus McEwan RWS ARWS, David Poxon RI,
Denis Ryan RWS and Sandra Walker RI

On Display from April 6, 2012 – April 30, 2012

CHARLESTON, SC (September 2011)- M Gallery of Fine Art SE is pleased to present “Art of the Real,” an exhibition featuring watercolorists Angus McEwan RWS ARWS, David Poxon RI, Denis Ryan RWS and Sandra Walker RI. As with many movements in the history of art, these artists have come together in celebration of common ideals. The show will be composed of approximately 40 watercolors, with 10 pieces from each artist. The show will hang from April 6th – April 30th, after which time it will travel to other cities in the U.S. The opening reception will be held on Friday, April 6th, in tandem with the First Friday Art Walk.

‘Art of the Real’ consists of four extremely successful artists who have found each other, as a confluence finds its meeting place. The term ‘real’ imbues thoughts of realism, could ‘Art of the Real’ be a realist revival?

Angus McEwan RWS ARWS, David Poxon RI, Denis Ryan RWS and Sandra Walker RI, have common threads running through their work, not only the fact that they all use watercolour, but many other facets that binds them together as a group.

The groups' love of 'craftsmanship' and the ability to provide a realistic interpretation of their chosen subjects is apparent. However, their art is not just about portraying the realistic elements of their subjects, or proving their superb technical ability, but an endeavour to give meaning to their subjects. Their endearment towards and emotional attachment to each and every subject they choose, is in itself a reason to form a collective celebration of real art and is at the heart of 'Art of the Real'.
